

Active Form (DESKTOP)

Hand-drawn diagram of a room layout on grid paper. The room is rectangular with a title bar at the top containing a close button (X). On the left is a vertical bar labeled "Room" containing five circles. The main area contains a large circle at the top, a horizontal bar with five circles below it, and a 2x3 grid at the bottom. The grid cells contain: a circle with a square inside, an empty circle, a circle with a cross, an empty circle, and a circle with a cross. On the right is a vertical bar containing four pairs of shapes: two circles, a circle and a triangle, a circle and a triangle, and a circle and a square labeled "img". Below this bar is the word "Text".

Authorization form (DESKTOP)

A hand-drawn sketch of a desktop authorization form. The form is enclosed in a rectangular border. At the top right corner, there is a header bar containing three small square icons: a left-pointing arrow, an empty square, and an 'X'. Below this bar, the text 'Hi in KUPK' is written in a large, casual font. In the center of the form, there are three vertically stacked input fields, each enclosed in a rounded rectangle. The first field contains the text 'Log in'. The second field contains the text 'PASSWORD'. The third field contains the text 'ENTER'. The entire sketch is drawn on a light gray grid background.
